BURLS-POMMELE

Exotic veneers are the ones which have unique and rare grain patterns obtained from natural timber. These grain patterns are recognized and appreciated all over the world as exotic characters that are rare to obtain.

Burl character in veneer is obtained by the unrestrained and multidirectional growth in natural trees. This character displays a unique, marble-like pattern and is nearly always sliced into veneers.

Pommele veneers are produced with special irregularly growing fibre of the pommele from the round log of wood. This character presents a beautiful texture and striking surface.

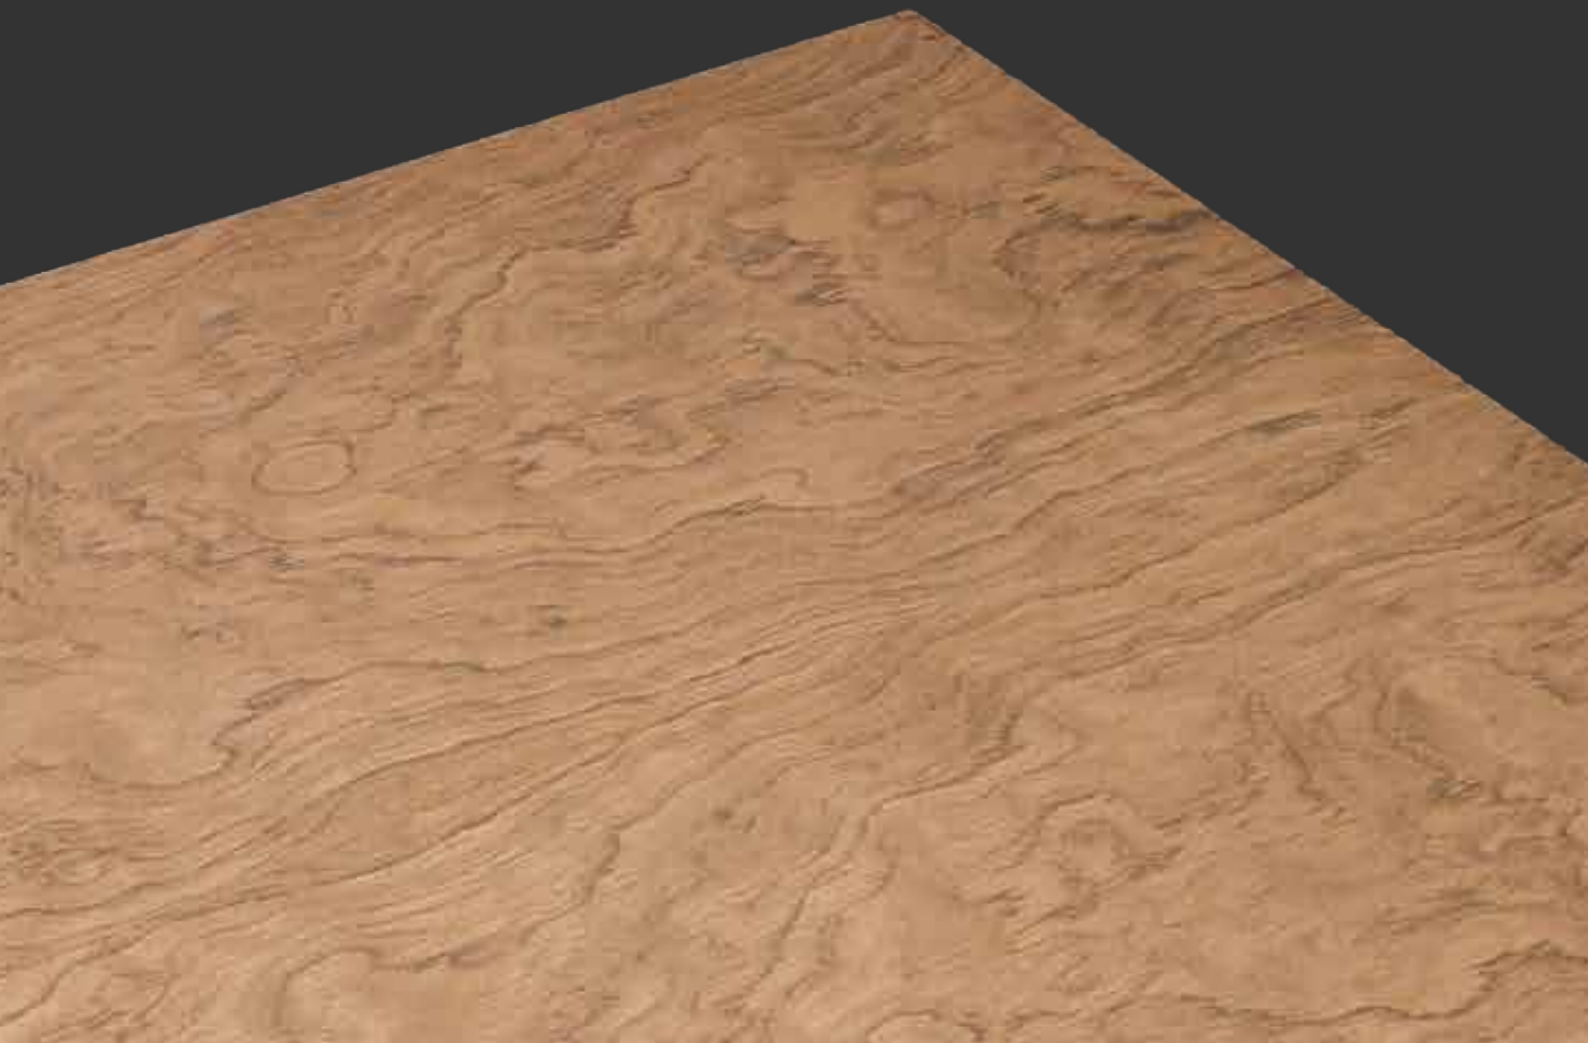

UNIQUE AND RARE GRAIN PATTERNS

Exotics veneers collection is made of the most rare and unique wood grains patterns found only in natural veneers.

POMMELLE

Pommelle veneers showcase quilted and/or extremely wavy clusters.

FIGURED

Figured veneers present curls or undulating wave pattern on the surface.

BURL

Burl veneers display unique marble-like pattern that could be obtained only from unrestrained and multidirectional growth in trees.
