Presenting the Novel Series - where each panel is a canvas of precision-cut veneers, assembled by hand to create stunning inlay masterpieces. Designed for those who seek elegance in every detail.

A worker in a dark blue shirt is seen in profile, working on a large, curved wooden panel in a factory setting. The panel features a complex, multi-colored wood grain pattern with various shades of brown and tan. The panel is resting on a metal surface with a series of circular indentations. The background is slightly blurred, showing industrial equipment and a bright light source.
